TOURIST ROBBED OF $1,200.

T. M. Huntington, of Gordon, Neb.
The Victim of Light-Fingered Gentry.

THEFT OCCURRED JACKSONVILLE.

While stopping in Jacksonville last Tuesday night T. M. Huntington, a banker, of Gordon, Nebraska, was robbed of $1,200; luckily, however, most of the amount was in the form of drafts, upon which Mr. Huntington has since stopped payment.

Mr. and Mrs. Huntington and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hoyt were on their way to Cuba and stopped at the Aragon Hotel over night.

Mr. Huntington was in the hotel lavatory and preparatory to bathing and brushing up he had removed his coat hanging it upon one of the hooks arranged for such use.

Mr. Huntington was in the habit of doing this and it never occurred to him that it would be possible for a sneak thief to reach over the top of the compartment adjoining, and unobserved lift his purse with its contents.

The party are now in Daytona, the guests of The Stillman.

Donald Leslie Niver, Just Three.

Donald Leslie Niver celebrated the third anniversary of his birth Saturday afternoon, and invitations were extended eighteen youngsters of like tender years, who joined Donald in the infantile festivities of rattling toys, dragging diminutive artificial "Teddies" about by their hind legs, standing Billie on their heads, swatting each other with rubber balls and such like pastimes.

It was a picture to see eighteen youngsters arranged around the refreshment board. Their spoons found their mouths nearly as often as their cheeks and their chins. The chaperones also report a good time.

ENCOUNTERED ICE AND SNOW.

Mrs. L. C. Demaree arrived from Kentucky Sunday night to relieve the loneliness of the City Editor of the Daily News. A blizzard was prevailing when Mrs. Demaree left her home at Johnson Junction Saturday morning, that makes the weather here appear as a summer respite in comparison. In the first attempt to reach the railroad station the vehicle was stalled and a wheel broken in the deep-drifted snow, and Mrs. Demaree and her trunk were finally transported to the depot on a large sled, after the way had been somewhat bettered by means of shovels.

SARCASTICALLY FUNNY, THIS "CUSS."

Cowardly Hiding Behind Nom De Plume, "East Coast" Shows Wolf-like Teeth.

THE LIGHT OF TRUTH TURNED ON

Displaying a vicious and venomous spirit "East Coast" in a half-column article in the Titusville East Coast Advocate, of January 29, fires a blunder-bus shot at the Halifax Journal, of this city. The editor of the Journal is abundantly able to take care of himself in all such controversies, and it is with no thought of helping the Journal that the Daily News takes a shot at "East Coast." But as the Daily News reaches some persons who read the Advocate article, not reached by the Journal, it is a wish to drive home a few facts to those persons whom the Advocate and the News reach, and who may not see any reply the Journal may see fit to make that prompts this notice of "East Coast's" fiery contribution.

His introductory burst of parody on an old poem is befuddling to everybody but the writer, and would require something more than a diagram and half-tones to make clear his meaning. It would seem rather that his "screech" is due to somebody's beach besides Daytona's. The Architect of the Universe put Daytona Beach here, and Daytona is not worrying one bit about the Great Architect taking it away; if any sleep is being lost it is "East Coast" who is the insomnia victim.

"East Coast" asserts that "a great deal of sympathy is being expressed for Daytona in her effort this year to pay for the races, etc." Sympathy is sometimes very comforting, but it takes good, hard cash to finance automobile races. Daytona set out to raise $4,500 or $5,000, and has gone above that mark. The reader will probably wonder where the "sympathy" application comes in. If the only available racing beach were in front of the town of Ormond, and Daytona wanted advertising as Ormond once did, or, rather, certain interests represented at Ormond, she would probably do as they did—borrow her beach and write it Daytona-Ormond.

The beautiful little town of Ormond—and that it is a delightful town no one will deny—has a splendid beach, not a beach on which world-records for speed can be made—nobody except some irresponsible, hiding behind a non de plume, would assert that she has—but a beach sufficiently good for automobile drivers to enjoy and make splendid time upon.

"East Coast" says the beach properly should be termed the Seabreeze-Port Orange beach. This only shows his enmity for Daytona, how "sore" he is. When the previous races were run how would Port Orange folks have got to their beach? By row boats to the peninsula and then walk across to the beach; or they could have come up to Daytona and cross by one of her three bridges (perhaps to please "East Coast" the writer should say the Seabreeze-Port Orange bridges).

"East Coast" next points out that Ormond, Holly Hill, Seabreeze, Daytona Beach, Port Orange and Ponce

HANDS ON POCKET-BOOKS

Professor Maurice, an exceedingly clever magician, is in town and will doubt be a strong drawing card at the "Gator Moving Picture Show" this week. He dropped in the Daily News office this morning, and taking a shining four-bit piece of silver, looking to be fresh from the mint, from his purse, handed it to one of the office force, who accepted with thanks, but when about to store it safely away in the depleted-of-purse it mysteriously metamorphosed into a corroded copper coin not worth the price of a sack of goobers.

Professor Maurice began to draw decks of cards from the pockets of the office force as they drew around him, including the Sunday school editor—that's "me"—and he had the whole shop guessing in short order.

Go down and see the Professor, but be sure and keep your hands on your pocketbooks.

THE UNCLE SAM CHANGES HANDS

Captain L. E. Ellenwood, Friday afternoon, purchased of McCoy Bros. the steamer Uncle Sam which she lies at her anchorage at Holly Hill. The Uncle Sam had been stripped of her machinery, glass, etc., but Captain Ellenwood will at once bring the boat to Daytona and fit her up nicely in all respects and if he can get the machinery here on time will put her in commission the present season, using her probably on the Tomoka river trip and the steamer Cherokee on the New Smyrna run.

The Uncle Sam is a fine boat and Captain Ellenwood is to be congratulated upon being able to add her to his already efficient fleet which now gives him control of the sight-seeing trips by water in this vicinity.

The open season for hunting deer closed last night at 12:00 o'clock and anyone hunting deer between that time and the first of next November is liable to a fine of $100 or imprisonment in jail for six months.

WIRE SERVICE IS CRIPPLED.

The Western Union wires have not been working to many points up until 2 o'clock this afternoon, and as a result the Daily News did not receive its usual telegraphic service until time to go to press.

NORMAN E. MACK IS SUMMONED

(By United Press.)
BUFFALO, N. Y., Feb. 1.—Norman E. Mack, Democratic National Chairman, was served with a subpoena by a United States deputy marshal, commanding him to appear in the United States Court at New York tomorrow morning in the action brought by the United States Government against the New York World in connection with the Panama Canal article. Mack leaves for New York tonight in answer to the summons.

HONEY BEES AT "OUR STORE"

An observatory hive of bees exhibited in the show window of Our Store, on South Beach street, attracted considerable attention during last week. The bees are the property of Geo. J. Vandevord, of Volusia avenue, who includes beekeeping among his other accomplishments.

Apiculture is a subject but little understood by the average individual and an exhibit of bees in town or city generally excites much curiosity and notice. Many people, while enjoying the product of the bees' labor are unduly fearful of the little insects' weapon of defense, its sting, and cannot be tempted near them unless they are confined, as in the above case.

It is an interesting study to those willing to brave the business end of the bee, and even the casual observer finds much to attract him in the movements of a colony of bees when confined in a glass observatory hive.

GOSPEL TENT CHANGES SITE

The Gospel tent, which has been located on Beach street, near the City Hall, is being moved to a lot on Third avenue, just east of the school house where nightly services will be resumed tomorrow night. The subjects for the next few nights will be as follows:

- Tuesday—"Our Future Home."
 - Wednesday—"Prophetic History of the World."
 - Thursday—"The End of the World In This Generation."
 - Friday—"What will Happen when Christ Comes."
 - Saturday—Sabbath school at 2 p. m., preaching at 3. At 7:00 o'clock, "God's Immutable Rule of Government."
 - Sunday—"The Change of the Sabbath."
- Other announcements later.

W. M. Brown Goes Free.

William M. Brown, former president of the Fort Dallas National Bank of Miami, who has been on trial before the Federal Court in that city on various charges of misappropriating the funds of the bank, was acquitted Friday evening. Mr. Brown conducted his own defense.

THE TRUCKERS WERE ON ANXIOUS SEAT.

Reports From Fruit Growers and Truckers Show Relatively Small Losses.

TENDER VEGETATION WAS CUT LOW

When the west winds Saturday came in terrific blasts truckers and fruit growers showed interest; when the wind began to veer to the Northwest, and gradually grow cooler, a more anxious feeling was manifested, and when the Daily News came out with the weather department forecast, sent at 10:45 a. m., "Fair and much colder tonight with freezing temperature," etc., followed with another a little later, with freezing prediction, everybody began to prepare for the worst.

The mercury did go to the freezing point, but so little below that point that comparatively little damage is done. And as it is an ill wind that blows nobody good, let it be said that this blast from the Medicine Hat district was not without its beneficial effects. Chief among the beneficial effects may be noted the help to the celery industry, which is assuming quite important proportions at Daytona. It was just what the celery crop needed. It will check the blooming of orange trees, and stop the flow of sap without material injury to tree or fruit, and it makes the atmosphere over, kills insect pests by the wholesale. Brace up, if you're chilly; the weather will swing right back to normal, and it is surprising how quickly vegetation recuperates or springs up.

Beans, tomatoes, eggplant and the tender things were hit hard, cauliflower and lettuce that were heading, and a few other things, pinched somewhat, and certain varieties of strawberries were hard hit. Despland lost his "Lady Thompson" fruit and its bloom, but the "Klondike" came through with comparatively little damage.

R. L. Pappy of South Palmetto avenue, covered his strawberry vines with pine straw and grass, and suffered no loss.

W. F. Holmes, manager, G. A. Blane, a professional trucker, says the cold snap was of inestimable benefit to the celery and he was not in pessimistic mood.

Young lettuce plants and all seed beds are in good shape and favorable weather from this on will soon bring things around again. The cloudy weather this morning, with slowly rising temperature, was just what truckers would have asked had they been ordering weather to meet local requirements.

Tonight, Gibeon Garl at the Baptist Church.

WATER WORKS BIDS ARE AWARDED.

Bond Committee Satisfied They Have Made Good Contract For The City.

PLANT TO BE COMPLETED IN JUNE

The bids for the waterworks plant were finally awarded Friday evening, J. B. McCrary & Co., of Atlanta, getting the bulk of the work, which was bid on and accepted in units.

The only firms in this city making bids were Ballow & Melton and Hough & Bond and both bids were accepted, so that the former will put in the necessary wells, and the latter construct the foundations for the tank and tower.

It took several days to examine the various bids, of which there were about forty, and give the parties present, of whom there were some fifteen or more, a hearing upon the merits of their respective bids, but the Bond Committee stuck faithfully to their task, and are satisfied with the result, feeling assured that they have secured for the city a contract that will mean a waterworks system that could not be put in operation anywhere for less money, and would probably be difficult to duplicate at the same price. Several of the bidders, after the matter was closed, said to members of the committee, that, owing to certain prevailing conditions, and the careful handling of the matter a contract much better than usual had been obtained for the city. The aggregate amount of the bids in no case exceeded the preliminary estimate of the committee.

A high compliment was paid to the firm of D. D. and C. M. Rogers civil engineers, of this city, by those competing for the work, all declaring the plans and specifications furnished to be most complete in all respects exceptionally fine, in fact, in all their detail.

Almost without exception those who failed to receive contracts expressed themselves as satisfied at the fair and courteous treatment they had received from the Bond Committee and departed with the best of feeling and the desire to again see Daytona, which most of them were visiting for the first time.

The plant is to be completed about the first of July.

Will Operate News Stand.

A news stand will be operated in connection with the Daytona Beach Drug Store in the Van Valzah building. The Daily News and other live papers of the State will be sold. The Jacksonville Times-Union will also be handled, as well as many northern papers.

The many friends of Miss Lizzie Blakeslee will be delighted to know that there is prospect of her returning to her Seabreeze home some time in March.

The improvement which was being made on the home of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Smith is now completed and adds many times to the beauty of their home. Mrs. B. Smith says she will now turn her attention to the front yard, and a more rare setting.

London Street Noises.

A hundred years or so ago no punishment could have been worse than that of subjecting the victim to the inferno of modern London noises if they had then existed. Dropping water on the forehead, torturing with tweezers, setting food before the starving culprit—out of reach—all of these were exquisite and refined forms of horror, but they all pale before a night and a day in a modern London street—Town and Country.

Murdered by a Statue.

The death of Kenneth, the half mythic king of Scotland, was one of the most curious and remarkable in history. It may be called a historical fact. It seems that Kenneth had slain Cruthlathus, a son, and Malcolm Duffus, the king and brother of Fennella. She, to be revenged, caused Wiltsu, the most ingenious artist of the time, to fashion a statue filled with automatic springs and levers. Finished and set up this brazen image was an admirable work of art. In its right hand Wiltsu placed a ewer and in the left an apple of pure gold finely set with diamonds and other precious stones. To touch this apple was to court death. It was so arranged that any one guilty of such vandalism would be immediately riddled with arrows shot from loopholes in the statue's body. Kenneth was invited to see the wonder and, kluglike (and just as Fennella hoped), tried to pluck the imitation fruit. He was instantly riddled with poisoned arrows, dying where he fell.

The Modern
Seven Wonders
Daytona's Incomparable Ocean Beach.
One of Daytona's crowning glories is her incomparable beach. No one who ever set foot upon its smooth, packed sands; no one who ever pedaled a bicycle over its expanse; no one who ever drove a prancing pair of horses and listened to the popping of their steel shoes
upon its asphaltum-like face; no one who ever steered a high-power automobile down the broad stretch of wave-washed and surf-packed sand but realized that it is a world-beater, a world-wonder. Go stand upon this wide speedway and see the happy souls flit by in joyous mood, and answer whether this is not one of the seven modern wonders.

The Placid, Pellicul Halifax River.
Where think you is water with more picturesque surroundings? Nearly a mile wide, fringed with tropical vegetation, artistic cottages with roomy ve-randa's looking out upon her bosom, gamey food fishes in countless numbers
beckoning, as it were, to those with rod and reel; her bosom flecked with duck
and coot and snowy-winged sea birds, which sit about as if for the sport of bobbing upon her waves; watch that lubberly old white headed p.ican perch
a fat mullet, and that fish hawk sitgling upward with his floundering load
he snatched from the water.
See the beautiful launches, spick and span, their hampers and lockers bulging with refreshments both solid and liquid ready for a cruise upon her beautiful surface. Take out your field glass and sweep the river from Ormond bridge to Ponce Park light house, then say whether the Halifax isn't a thing of beauty and a joy forever, and one of the modern wonders.

The Enchantingly Picturesque Ridgewood.
Ridgewood avenue is upon the crest of a broad ridge, straight as the crow flies, and the wide-spreading branches of the heavy-trunked live-oaks extend their great arms across this magnificent vista, forming an arch, and from these extended arms great festoons of Spanish moss
sway as the trade winds from tropic seas fan them. Looking straight ahead down this white shell street one has the impression of a fairy path with elvish draperies, but as you move along and cast an eye first to the right and then to the left you see distinguished cottage homes
in the most delightful settings.
Surpassing Beauty of Our Cottage Homes.
No one of Daytona's attractions, perhaps commands more nearly universal attention and praise than does the artistic cottage. The owners of these charming villas hail from every corner of the country and they bring their own architectural plans and build upon them, and as the architecture of one section of the country differs from the architecture of another so do our homes differ in outward appearance and structural beauty
from one another. There are no monotonous rows of strikingly similar buildings but the eye, as it sweeps by, is treated to a kaleidoscopic change which keeps the mind wondering "What next?"
Streets and Pavements the Most and Best.
Why the Architect of the Universe chose to give to Daytona the most admirable, the most picturesque natural setting of all the cities of the South is not revealed but that such a fact must be apparent to the most superficial observer. With such lavish wealth of natural beauty it became an easy thing for the hand of man to give the little finishing touches which have brought out the colors and outlines of the big picture.
Man did all this in the laying out of the streets with their wide margins of parkage, the entire city becomes a great park.
And as for pavements, pavements that look and act like granite,—where else between the eastern and western seas are so many miles in proportion to inhabitants? Till some unheard-of place reports more and better, Daytona throws down the gauntlet to the world.

The Fastest Autos And The Finest Out.
Here is where world's records for speed
are broken with every recurring season.
Autos the biggest, the fastest, and the finest are on daily parade and the big show is as free as the pure artesian
water from the thousand flowing wells.
It is a continuous show with constantly shifting scene. You will probably catch the spirit and when you do the roads and the beach are yours. The Florida sunshine is free, the balmy ocean
breezes are free, the birds and squirrels
and flowers are free, the sparkling fountain water is free and you will have to go down in your wallet only for coin
for the auto and bed and board.
This is no fanciful picture; it's all here. It is drawing other thousands and holding them enthralled, it will charm and hold you. Come and see.

Here is a question for some one

He Gave Them Latin.
Once, before he was president. At-drew Jackson was making a political speech in some obscure campaign in a backwoods Tennessee district. His address was very well received, but somehow there did not seem to be exactly the enthusiasm wanted for the occasion. Having vainly tried to "warm up" his hearers, the general was just going to sit down when the chairman of the meeting plucked him
by the coat-tail. "For the Lord's sake, general, let 'em hear Latin!" he harrily whispered in the speaker's ear.
"They won't think you know anything at all if you quit like this. Smith, the opposite candidate, talked Latin to
'em half the evening."
Old Hickory rose to the situation.
Advancing to the edge of the platform,
he extended his arm and thundered out: "E pluribus unum! Sic semper parvulus! Habeas corpus!"
The audience roared with applause.
The credit of the orator was saved,
and the Jackson ticket won out in that county.—St. Paul Pioneer Press

make of it all, the girl in the bed got up and went out to meet herself. The two fell into each other's arms, and there and then, in the presence of spec-

A slouch of the Northern Malacca type is probably near "East Coast" to the south of the "Malacca" referred to here. It likely means the writer who is in what he is, all the way out to the middle of the ocean, will have an "Anglo-Malacca" type of "Malacca" referred to here. There is a "Malacca" referred to here and there and beautiful many of the Florida class. "East Coast" to the south is some thing.

I am still here, and there is room for several other good fellows on the same log. My neighbors have for sale some very pleasant Cottage Lots at prices that have not discounted the millenium.

Price, $1,000 for both and a snap at that. If you are interested and desire to look at the property, call on or address, C. M. Bingham, City or Bingham & Thompson, Agents.

JOHN F. WILLIAMSON WRITES OF CHARMS OF DAYTONA.

Wields The Pen Cleverly And Says Many Good Things About Daytona.

John F. Williamson, of Magnolia ave., in an interesting article to his home paper, the Utica (N. Y.) Herald-Dispatch, shows himself to be a booster of the right brand. He noticed a reference to Daytona going the rounds of his home papers which fell short of the work and in a clear-cut and lucid manner he proceeded to put Daytona before his Empire State friends in the proper light.

Among other pleasant things he says: "Daytona, not including several populous suburbs, is a city of upward of 5000 population, having streets that Utica might be proud of and also electric lights. The town is installing a municipal water system, and with the exception of a few parks there are no improvements that can be made."

"Daytona has twenty hotels and supports three newspapers, one a daily, to say nothing of the business places of all kinds that would do credit to a city of ten times its size."

"I wish I could spare the time to give you some idea of what Daytona is like, but I am afraid I shall have to write a book to do it justice. Imagine strolling along the streets in January in summer clothing with orange and banana trees growing in your front yards and the birds singing till you can hardly hear yourself think; then imagine a white sand beach 600 feet wide with the surf rolling in and piling up on the beach with a roar that is deafening. That is only a small part of what Daytona has to boast of."

"If you can find space to print this as a whole or in part you will be boosting a city that deserves boosting just as 'Old Pent Up' and I are boosting her every day."

"Just a word to any Uticans who are contemplating a trip South this winter: Stop off at Daytona and look me up next door to postoffice, and I'll do the rest."

[Mr. Williamson's pen picture of the oranges and bananas in your yards like to have been spoiled by the frigid blast of Saturday, but the sun will bring out the blossoms in a short time and all will be forgiven.]

An Annoying Error.
That was a very annoying typographical error that crept into the papers the other day, telling how a prominent society man had been held up by highwaymen and "robbed of his watch and other valuables." The editor has come out with an explanation that the last word was not vegetables, but valuables—Judge.

"The Pied Piper."
A New York normal school examination had among its questions, "What is the educational value of 'The Pied Piper of Hamelin?'" A would-be teacher answered, "The 'Pied Piper' teaches children to be kind to animals, especially rats."—New York Times.
